The humble Addreſs of the High Sheriff, Grand Jury and Freeholders of the County of Roſcommon.

The humble Addreſs of the Governor, High Sheriff, Juſtices of the Peace, Grand Jury, Gentlemen and Freeholders of the County of Catherlaugh.

Which Addreſſes Her Majeſty received very graciouſly.

Palermo, October 11. N. S. Yeſterday in the Evening the Britiſh Squadron, with the King and Queen on Board, arrived in this Harbour after eight Days Sail. The Marquis de Balbaces, our Vice-Roy, together with the Archbiſhop of this City, and moſt of the Nobility of the Kingdom, went out in Galleys to meet them. On the Shore there was a vaſt concourſe of People of all Ranks, who, by repeated Acclamations, expreſs'd their Joy for their Majeſty's ſafe arrival. They continued on Ship-board till this Day, and upon their Landing were complimented by the Magiſtrates in a Body. After which they proceeded directly to the Cathedral Church, to give Thanks for their proſperous Voyage. A great part of the Troops that came with them are already diſembark'd, and the remainder are to ſet Sail for Meſſina, in order to take Poſſeſſion of the Places on that ſide of the Country, which, upon their arrival, are to be evacuated by the Spaniſh Garriſons.

Venice, October 20. N. S. On the 16th the Electoral Prince of Saxony ſet out for Padoua in his way to Germany. The Pope's Nuntio has had a Publick Audience of Leave of this Republick, and intends in a few Days to go to his Archbiſhoprick of Fermo. Count Galeſch, Ambaſſador from his Imperial Majeſty to the Pope, and Monſignor Piazza late Nuntio at Vienna, are arrived at Verona, from whence they intend to proceed together on their Journey to Rome. We are inform'd from thence, that an Excommunication had been Poſted up in the publick Places againſt the Marquis de Balbaſos, Vice-Roy of Sicily, for baniſhing the Biſhops of Meſſina and Giurgento. An Expreſs was come from the Governor of Benevento, with an account that Four hundred German Soldiers had been there to demand a Criminal fled from Naples, and kept in Priſon at that Place. The Governor told them he knew of no ſuch Perſon, and if there was any, he could not deliver him up without Orders from the Pope. But the Soldiers not ſatisfied with this Anſwer, broke open all the Priſons, and committed great Diſorders: Upon which, the Townſmen took up Arms to engage them, and after the Loſs of a few Men on each ſide, the Germans retired. The Pope, immediately after he receiv'd this account, ſent for the Emperor's Ambaſſador, who continued with him above Three Hours. They write from Naples, that Her Majeſty's Ships the Colcheſter and the Briſtol, were ſail'd from thence for Palermo, to join the Squadron under the command of Admiral Jennings.

Hamburgh, October 31. N. S. The Number of thoſe that died here laſt Week amounts to Four hundred forty five. We have received Advice, that the King of Denmark's Equipage had been order'd to follow him, and was actually upon the Road to Copenhagen, but was afterwards countermanded; by which, it is thought, he intends to return very ſoon to Holſtein. His Majeſty has expreſſed great Diſſatisfaction at the Treaty of Sequeſtration lately concluded, without his Privity, between the King of Pruſſia and Prince Menzikoff; and has given Notice, that if the like Agreement be made in relation to Wiſmar, he ſhall take it as an Injury meant to him, and reſent it accordingly. It is ſaid, a new Plan for the Affairs of Holſtein has been projected at Berlin, by Count Flemming and Monſieur Goertz, that the Count intends to ſet out ſoon for Copenhagen, and the latter for Hanover, in order to acquaint thoſe Courts with what has been concerted, and endeavour to gain their Approbation of it. The Adminiſtrator of Holſtein is unwilling to have his Differences with the King of Denmark referred to the Aſſembly at Brunſwick, and deſires that the Affairs of his Country ſhould be ſeparated from thoſe that relate to the North in general: But it is thought he will hardly ſucceed, ſince his Daniſh Majeſty has reſolved not to receive any more Propoſals from the Miniſters of Holſtein, till a Treaty is begun for a general Peace. They write from Warſaw, that the Turkiſh and Tartarian Miniſters acquainted King Auguſtus, in their laſt Audience, that the Grand Signior acknowledged him to be lawful King of Poland, and would not in the leaſt violate the Treaty of Carlowitz: But that they were directed by the Port to intercede in behalf of King Staniſlaus and his Adherents, and to deſire his Majeſty would receive them into Favour. To which the King replied, that as many of them as made their Submiſſion within a limited time ſhould obtain their Pardon, and be reſtored to their Eſtates.

Hague, November 3. N. S. The States of Holland and Weſt-Frieſland have been Aſſembled for ſome Days, and are to ſeparate to Morrow, after they have taken into Conſideration a Project communicated to them and the reſt of the Provinces, for Regulating their Military Affairs. Yeſterday morning the Duke d'Oſſuna, Plenipotentiary of Spain, returned to Utrecht, and in a ſhort time he will be followed by the Sieurs Randwick, Buys, and Van der Duſſen, who came lately from thence, in order to receive new Inſtructions from the States-General their Maſters. We have received Advice from Germany, that the Garriſon of Fribourg had demanded to Capitulate for the Town, but Mareſchal Villars inſiſting that the Caſtle ſhould likewiſe be ſurrender'd at the ſame time, no Agreement was made when thoſe Letters came away.
